I like painting very much, although I don't have the talent and I have never studied professional painting. As long as i don't give up this hobby, I believe that one day I will create a work that I am satisfied with. So this site is recorded from my first work. I really like to study the creation of Buddhism, and I will share this type of work with everyone. I hope everyone can like it, and welcome everyone to contact me and discuss common interests.
